Description It's hard for me to keep track of different services open in multiple tabs in my browser window when all of the tabs display the same favicon. Deploying a different favicon for each service would help us to work faster and more efficiently. Services include: - TDF Wiki - Redmine - Etherpad - Help Wiki - etc..

+1

I'm having the same problem. Esp. since redmine using the same favicon like the TDF-wiki

Can be easily exchanged on the servers, but someone should ask on the design list for some feedback, before we make major changes, IMHO
