Description

It would be very nice to have more powerful tools for performing common and tedious actions/tasks on Questions.

Examples:

- A user files a question and doesn't provide any system information. It would be nice to have a 1-click tool to ask for more information (see issue #687)
- A user files a question that should be filed as a bug report instead

These 'actions' could be accessible via links on individual Question pages. Each action could have

- Link label/text
- An (internal) description of the action (maybe this could be displayed as a tool-tip on the link?)
- Karma threshold to have the link appear
- (optional) Tag(s) to add to/remove from the Question
  - These could be specified in a list as "+add-this-tag -remove-this-tag" etc.
- (optional) A chunk of formatted text to be dumped into a new Answer
- (optional) A chunk of formatted text to be displayed as a pop-up/pop-over notification
  - The pop-up/over notification on the Question could be cleared when a certain tag is added or removed (e.g. "-needinfo" or "+filed-as-bug"), or (Easier to implement) when the question asker closes it

The idea of pop-up/pop-over notifications could be implemented as a stand-alone piece, without all the features described above: Given a particular condition (e.g. Question is tagged with 'needinfo'), a pop-up could appear that would say "Please make sure the question contains blah, blah, and blah, etc..., and then remove the 'needinfo' tag".

Something that needs to be developed. Evgeny will send me some pricing details on that so we can consider it for the budget.
